LOT-O-GOLD IN THESE THEATRES
Every WEDNESDAY NITE!

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BE RICH to help American Defense. That's the theme of the above poster, one of the newest of the Defense Savings promotional pieces now going up in streetcars, on bulletin boards, and at other public places. This poster emphasizes the point advanced by the Treasury Department that every American can—and must—pitch in if the United States is to have the arms and the tools necessary to protect her freedom.

At Sequoia Theater Sunday

MENLO PARK NEWS

BY D. E. O'KEEFE

MENLO PARK—James Holden was here from the East during the week looking for a site for an oil station. He has selected the property for the station and work on the plant will start early in April.

The local school election takes place in March. Three candidates are being groomed for the places on the board. The campaign promises to be a very active one.

An important business change is to take place in Menlo Park during the month. It will involve two prominent firms.

The municipal election is only two months off and little interest is being taken in the event, although it is said no less than three candidates are seeking trusteeships. There is no one mentioned for clerk or treasurer. The incumbents will likely retain their positions.

Miss Betty Reynolds, the pretty daughter of Mrs. Thomas Reynolds, will be married in the Church of the Nativity today to Al Tittle, formerly connected with the Associated Oil Co. in Menlo Park. The young couple will reside in Menlo Park.

Work on six new dwellings on the Flood property will start as soon as the weather clears. Owing to the scarcity of men and material, because of the war, these will be the only ones built in the tract for some time.

On Thursday evening Past President's Association 9 of San Mateo County Native Daughters held installation of officers at the home of Mrs. Sadie Ryan in Redwood City. Mrs. Eleanor Ryan was hostess. After a short business meeting Past President Mrs. Robert Brown installed the following officers:

Past president, Mrs. Homan Moore; president, Miss Mildred Foley; first vice president, Mrs. Eleanor Ryan; second vice president, Mrs. Mamie Glennan; third vice president, Mrs. Edgar Mosher; marshal, Mrs. Frances E. Maloney; financial secretary, Mrs. Sadie Ryan; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Doyle; recording secretary, Mrs. Jow. Loverich; inside sentinel, Mrs. Elizabeth Gould; organist, Miss Eleanor Foley; directors, Mrs. Catherine Derry, Mrs. Henry Bartels, Mrs. Clarence Junker, Mrs. Dora Wilson, Mrs. Bernard Bernasque.

Mrs. Homan Moore, the outgoing president, was presented with a gift of appreciation for her untiring efforts during her term. She thanked the members and wished her successor would have as happy a year as she had.

Dutch whist was enjoyed, high scores going to Mrs. Moore and low to Frances Maloney. A donation was made to the San Mateo County Red Cross. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Jack Doyle.

First of 3 Labor Offices Is Opened

Agricultural Commissioner Max J. Leonard has opened a secondary employment bureau at Colma to aid farmers in obtaining labor to plant and harvest rich garden crops in San Mateo County's productive north end farming area.

The Colma office, operating through the Colma Vegetable Association, will make farm labor requirements known to the San Mateo office of the Federal Employment Service. Leonard said he had been assured that labor would be supplied within a week or two.

He said he planned to open similar branch offices in Half Moon Bay and in Pescadero.

BURLINGAME FIRM SUED

Adele R. Grantley of Burlingame has filed suit in superior court for $25,000 damages from James W. McAlister Inc., 130 California Dr., Burlingame. She alleges that she suffered permanent injuries Jan. 18, 1941, when she entered the place as a prospective purchaser and was struck by an automobile jack.

Telephone Employes Buying Defense Bonds

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its subsidiaries, Southern California Telephone Co. and Bell Telephone Co. of Nevada, have completed arrangements with the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco to act as issuing agent for the United States Defense Savings Bonds being purchased by its employes under the payroll allotment plan. In making this announcement Pres N. R. Powley stated:

"Our resources, facilities and personnel are all directed toward our company playing its full, effective and patriotic part in this great national emergency. We count it not only a real privilege, but also an honor to be of service to our government in acting as its issuing agent for the United States Defense Savings Bonds. Further, this arrangement we are placing in effect—and the same is true of all large employers who become an issuing agent — will lighten the load on the Federal Reserve Banks and other selling agents who have been swamped with orders.

"In August, 1938, arrangements were made for the purchase of United States Savings Bonds by payroll allotment. On May 1, 1941, this plan was amended to make provision for the purchase of the United States Defense Savings Bonds. Our employes' experience with the payroll allotment plans heretofore adopted, which they both appreciate and used extensively, has been a most helpful background in their patriotic purchase of the Defense Savings Bonds. As at Dec. 31, 1941, 6,217 employes were participating in the plan and had purchased or were purchasing, at the end of the year, $1,433,475 face value of bonds.

"Since the tragic events of Dec. 7, 1941, there has been a marked increase in the purchase of Defence Bonds by our employes through the use of this attractive payroll allotment plan. In our having the privilege to act as an issuing agent for the Defense Bonds it will, of course, add to the already heightened interest of our employes in their patriotic purchase of these bonds and, without doubt, this additional step we are taking will be as enthusiastically received as have been our popular payroll allotment plans."

Preliminary Hearing Set for Edward Becker

Edward C. Becker, 34, ex-convict accused of burglarizing a Redwood City restaurant Jan. 16, was arraigned before Judge E. I. McAuliffe Monday. His preliminary hearing was set for Friday. Becker, who lived in Friendly Acres and who was employed as a welder in South San Francisco, confessed to police that he stole liquor, a radio and other goods valued at $200 from a restaurant owned by Steve Aimo. He served five years for robbery prior to 1937.

Youths Face Charges After Scratching Cars

Two Redwood City youths, aged 17 and 18, were in county jail today charged with malicious mischief. Police said they were apprehended Sunday on Main St. using a glass cutter to scratch automobile bodies and glass.

City Putting Rock On Broadway Extension

City Manager C. L. Dimmitt announced here that the city is putting rock on the Broadway extension leading to the site of the National Motor Bearing plant in Redwood City in preparation for start of construction at an early date. He said he understood the contract for the building construction would be let Wednesday and that work would start shortly thereafter.

Shelters Designated For San Carlos

SAN CARLOS—Citizens of this community who might be downtown during a daylight air raid may take shelter in the Carlos Theater or the Laurel Building, according to the San Carlos Defense Council, which designated these two buildings as official shelters.

Plans to secure new sirens for air raid warnings are also being considered by the council.

Other developments on the defense front here:

Communications Chairman Donald R. Lilly appointed Mack Bell to be in charge of communication lines, succeeding Norton DeWolfe.

Mrs. C. F. Holzwarth, chief defense matron, and Mrs. William M. Stevenson, assistant, appointed the following district matrons and deputies:

1. Mrs. Ronald Gordon and Mrs. Arthur Alderson.
2. Mrs. George Ybarreta and Mrs. James Hugh Martin.
3. Mrs. Paul Pier and Mrs. W. K. Fleischmann.
4. Mrs. George Boyce and Mrs. C. A. Phelan.
5. Mrs. Lloyd Tobey and Mrs. C. W. Odell.
6. Mrs. Gilbert Longtin and Mrs. Arthur Peterson.

9. Mrs. N. C. DeWolfe and Mrs. Otis McIntyre.
10. Mrs. Edwin Lobazin and Mrs. H. Iams.
11. Mrs. E. C. Burson and Mrs. Roy Collins.

Air raid wardens are needed in Districts 7 and 8, according to John E. Webster, chief air raid warden, who asks anyone willing to serve to contact him.

T.B. Association Raises $13,200 in Yule Seals

The San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association reported today that $13,200 has been received to date in the Christmas seal campaign.

This amount is under the agency's goal of $15,000—which was established after a tentative budget was drafted encompassing the need for expanded health work in the defense program—and officials of the association are making another plea to citizens who have not sent in their Christmas seal donations to do so as soon as possible.

"Now that war is a reality, the agency needs to make its goal to extend its services into the needed fields of health which are vital to the nation's victory," Judge Maxwell McNutt, campaign chairman, declared.

Plans are now under way for an enlarged program among defense workers in the industrial area, Bradford M. Melvin, president of the association, pointed out.

The medical committee will have to depend on the money available Feb. 1 to decide the scope of this service.

How to 'Spark Up' Appetites

AS A ZIPPY APPETIZER or as an accompaniment to substantial salads and hot dishes, this unusual frankfurter-pickle spread is "made to order." It's designed to be served on fresh, flaky Snow Flake Soda Crackers for just the right flavor contrast. And so easy to put together. . . .

Put ½ lb. frankfurters, ½ lb. American cheese, and 8 sweet pickles through medium knife of food chopper. Add ⅓ cup mayonnaise. Spread on 20 to 30 fresh Snow Flake Sodas and serve either hot or cold with beverage. What a treat for those informal winter get-togethers!

John Kruttschnitt Given Right To Handle Estate

By agreement of attorneys in the estate of E. Minna Kruttschnitt, John Kruttschnitt of San Mateo Saturday was granted special limited letters of administration by Judge A. R. Cotton in superior court. The letters will allow the son to terminate a lease on an expensive, vacant New York apartment. Involved is an annual rental of $3572 extending to Feb. 28 in the year 2019.

Mrs. Kruttschnitt, widow of Julius Kruttschnitt, former board chairman for Southern Pacific, died Dec. 18 in Hillsborough. Her will named her son, Julius Kruttschnitt, Australian mining engineer, and a New York bank as executors. The son, stranded in Australia, has requested letters of administration through a San Francisco attorney. Two brothers, Col. T. H. and John Kruttschnitt, also have requested letters on the grounds that Julius will be unable to serve.

The petition for special letters was granted after regular court hours Saturday on the showing that the New York lease must be terminated by surrendering the lease and by making a payment for maintenance prior to Feb. 1. Hearing on the petition to make these arrangements was set for Jan. 28.

Attorneys said today the rival petitioners for letters of administration would probably both be heard Feb. 9, and that whether or not Julius Kruttschnitt could serve would depend upon his presence in court at that time.

NARCOTICS TRIAL SET

Trial of Wong Lee, Menlo Park Chinese accused of illegal possession of narcotics, was set for Jan. 30 Monday by Judge A. R. Cotton in superior court.

Let There Be Light for homework at night
Busy times are ahead for needles and thread
Home Wardens keep informed on new defense regulations

BLACKOUT
see it through with cheerful light

From time to time, within certain areas, there are going to be alarms that call for blackouts. All such alarms call for serious BLACKOUTS. That means EVERY HOME or BUILDING MUST be BLACK OUTSIDE. No beckoning finger of light should be visible to air raid wardens or the enemy.

Many alarms may come in daylight. But when alarms come at night, there should be no sitting in the dark for an hour or so. Blackout and keep lights on. Schools are carrying on just the same and home work must be completed. Knitting socks or mending clothes will grow to be more and more vital parts of defense material conservation. News of the day will be read more carefully. There is going to be less and less gadding about in the family auto.

Keep spirits up by carrying on with cheerful light. Use modern softly-diffused lighting. Do away with glaring light. Install and buy modern lighting that is cheerful and easy on the eyes. There is no shortage yet of better lighting fixtures and lamps. Equip your home now with modern eye-saving light.

PIN-IT-UP This is a handy portable type of light that is ideal for blackout rooms. Plug it in and hang it up like a picture on the wall.

DINING-ROOM Are your dining room lights bright and glaring as candles? Cut off that glare and have better light from a modern fixture that throws soft pleasing light downward on the table.

KITCHEN Many homes are fixing the kitchen to be light proof outside. Install a modern kitchen lighting unit that assures appetites will be satisfied on regular meal times.

63 T.B. Deaths Reported in County for Year

San Mateo County's tuberculosis death toll for 1941 was 63, according to a report issued today by Dr. C. C. Gans, county health director.

Of these, 33 were non-residents. Forty-two were males, 21 females. Heaviest toll was taken from the 36-40 age group. Pulmonary tuberculosis accounted for 53 of the deaths.

All but three of the deaths occurred in hospitals and sanitariums, and 20 were in county hospitals. There were nine tuberculosis deaths at the Veterans Facility, North Palo Alto, six at San Francisco's Hassler Health Home, and 21 in private institutions.

During the year 114 new cases of tuberculosis were reported, including 59 non-resident cases.

Edward R. (Ted) Burton Jr. (left) and Norman S. (Mac) Burton (right), sons of City Councilman and Mrs. E. R. Burton of San Carlos, are both U. S. Navy men now. Ted has just enlisted in the naval reserve and is awaiting appointment as a petty officer. Mac, the younger of the two, has been in the reserve more than a year. He is a signalman. Kiwanians Fete Club Anniversary

The 27th anniversary of Kiwanis International was observed by the Redwood City club at its meeting this week Kiwanis was founded in Detroit on Jan. 21, 1915. Today it has 2200 clubs with 114,000 members.

A message to the local club from Charles S. Donley of Pittsburgh, president of the international service organization, was read by the Rev. Samuel J. Chaney. "Let's pray for light to see the way to permanent victory over sin and aggressors who destroy," Donley asked his fellow Kiwanians in the United States and Canada.

C. S. Morris, president of San Mateo Junior College, spoke in observance of the anniversary, using as his topic the Kiwanis motto, "We Build." He traced the development of the service group during the quarter-century, and compared its function with that of the schools today.

"Our house is now on fire and we must all unite to put it out," declared Morris, who was introduced by School Supt. Andrew Spinas. "But after we put out the flames, the most important job will be the reconstruction to replace the damage. It is here that Kiwanis can most ably live up to its slogan, 'We Build.'"

James Riley, 9, Hurt In Fall From Trailer

James Riley, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton C. Riley, 842 Hudson St., Redwood City, was intrigued by an old trailer in a vacant lot on Myrtle St. between Madison and Jefferson Aves. while on his way to John Gill School Wednesday, and stopped to play. He walked into the trailer, slipped through a loose board and hung there until a passerby loosed him.

Need of Books Told By Marine in Iceland

Need of reading material in military camps was shown in a letter received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Meetz, 2115 Jefferson Ave., Redwood City, from their son, Stanley Meetz, who is stationed with the marines in Iceland.

Stanley wrote that the marines have a lot of time to read but not much to read. He also said that writing paper was needed. Meetz is stationed 30 miles from town. The camp had just had electric lights installed, after having had to use coal oil.

About the only entertainment at his camp is radio music, Meetz said. Most of it is broadcast from England. He reported that he had received his Christmas packages from here and there had been no disruption in mail service.

DO YOU WEAR "COWBOY SPECIAL" SHOES?

Old-time cowboys bought special street shoes with the heels cut off at 45-degree angles to fit the bow of their legs. If the heels of your shoes are run over, you're unconsciously contributing to "bowlegs" and are detracting from your appearance.
Only quality heels will stand up under the wear of walking. Let us attach a pair of these heels to your shoes tomorrow.

You Can Now Tell Service Men: 'Reverse the Mail Charges'

If you have a relative or friend in the U. S. Service—army, navy, marine corps—whom you want to hear from but feel his $21 a month might not be enough to buy all the things he needs and still leave enough for stamps, tell him to send his letters "collect."

This can be done, and you can pay for the letters yourself when they come.

This was learned here today in a letter to the Tribune written by Congressman John Z. Anderson, representative from this district.

He inclosed a message from Ramsey S. Black, third assistant postmaster general, in which he stated:

"Under existing law, embodied in Section 515, Postal Laws and Regulations, letters sent by soldiers, sailors or marines in the United States service, when mailed and indorsed as prescribed in that section, may be dispatched to destination without prepayment of postage and only the single rate of postage collected upon delivery."

The section referred to provides ". . . for transmitting unpaid and duly certified letters of soldiers, sailors and marines . . . to their destination, to be paid on delivery."

It adds that the letters, sent from any point in the U. S. or possessions or where U. S. domestic mail service is in operation, addressed to any place in the U. S. or its possessions, "when indorsed 'soldier's letter,' 'sailor's letter' or 'marine's letter,' and signed thereunder either with facsimile hand stamp or in writing, with his official designation, by a field or staff officer, post or detachment commander, to whose command the soldier belongs, or by a surgeon or chaplain at a hospital where he may be; and in the navy and marine service by any commissioned officer attached to the vessel or officer commanding a hospital or detachment ashore, may be dispatched to destination without prepayment of postage, and only the single rate of postage shall be collected on delivery."

Legislation has been recommended in Congress, Black said, to extend the privilege of free mailing to men in the armed forces stationed outside the continental United States during the war.

In addition, there has already been prepared a bill (HR 6174) which would provide for the issuance of postage stamps to be distributed free to all men in the service so they could send first class mail free of charge within the United States. This bill, introduced last Dec. 4, was referred to the committee on the post office and post roads, records show.

This bill, if passed, would put into effect, substantially, recommendations made by the Tribune editorially Dec. 23, in which it was urged that service men be given a supply of franked envelopes or stamps so they could write letters without having to pungle up money for stamps from their meager pay.

Early Selection Asked Of Trees This Year

Roger Walsh, city park superintendent, today requested that city residents wishing to buy trees through his department this year contact him at the city hall immediately. Each year, Walsh explained, he buys between 75 and 100 trees to grace city streets and parks, at the same time making selections for citizens who also wish to plant trees at this time. Arrangements for paying for the trees may be made through Walsh.

Woodside Residents May Procure Sand

WOODSIDE — It is announced by Fire Chief John Volpiano of Woodside Fire District that residents of this district may now procure their quota of sand for the emergency extinguishing of incendiary fires at either the Woodside or Portola Fire Houses.

Another detail coming under the heading of civilian defense is the plan now in operation in this district that at the alert signal preceding a blackout, all volunteer firemen will report to their stations and remain on duty throughout the blackout. One company of 12 men is so assigned to both the Woodside and Portola Stations.

Do You Want a New Home?

Do you desire a new home, and have you the means to finance it on FHA's Pay from Your Income plan, or by related modern home-financing measures? Then do not be frightened by sensational rumors of war-prohibitions on building by the government, says Northern California Homes Foundation, but proceed on the assurance that home construction, with necessary limitations, is an integral part of the government's program for the home front in the war. Consult your local retail lumber dealer, home-loan banker, or other building industry leader who is co-operating with district government housing agencies. These agencies, Northern California Homes Foundation points out, are constantly in direct contact with the highest authorities on building in Washington, and are thus the only absolutely reliable sources of building information that pertains to the policies of the government.

America Now Wants Small Homes

America has settled down to the under-$6000 house. A survey by the National Association of Real Estate boards just completed covering 248 typical cities shows that in the last six months —which means before the priorities ceiling was imposed— 80 per cent of all new home building was in the under-$6000 class.

The nation is well on its way to the under-$3000 house. The check, made as part of the association's 38th semi-annual survey of the real estate market, shows that in 8 per cent of the cities—almost one out of every 12—the under-$3000 house is the commonest type now being built. The under-$3000 house is eight times as frequent in defense as in non-defense areas.

For the country as a whole, the No. 1 price range at which new home building was going on as the war opened was the $4500 to $6000 range. Close contender for first honors is the $3000 to $4500 house. For the country as a whole 43 per cent of the cities state home building activity is greatest in the $4500 to $6000 group, but 39 per cent report the $3000-$4500 group as tops.

ENAMELED UTENSILS

The first porcelain enameled cooking utensils made in America were produced about 1861.

One Cent a Night!

The smart homemaker considers quality before price in purchasing bedding. An excellent mattress, for example, costs only about a cent a night when its long life is considered. Cheap mattresses are not economical, for they have a shorter length of service.

Rules Given For Choosing Mattresses

Choosing the right kind of sleeping equipment need not be difficult if a few primary principles are kept in mind, according to a manual on buying just issued by the bedding industry.

"Fortunately, it is not necessary for a homemaker to qualify as a technical expert in order to buy bedding intelligently," it states. "She can make her purchases easily and with assurance of satisfaction by following these three rules:

"First buy from a merchant known to be reliable; second, select the product of a reputable manufacturer; third, know your needs."

INDIVIDUAL PREFERENCE

In selecting a mattress, the manual points out, it is highly important to know the comfort preference of the person who is to sleep on it. Comfort is a matter of individual reaction. This is illustrated by the preference of an individual member of the family for a certain chair in the living room. The comfort factor is of much more concern in bedding, for while a person sits in a chair for only a comparatively short time, a mattress is in use eight hours every night for at least ten years.

"A high quality mattress is the best investment when it is to receive ordinary continuous use," the manual advises. "It will more than repay for its extra cost in longer service, and in addition it will give greater comfort during its entire life.

"Less expensive mattresses may suffice for guest rooms, summer cottages and the like, if use is intermittent or occasional. Even here, however, cheap mattresses have no place, for they will be deficient in initial comfort."

QUALITY COUNTS

Pointing out the need for good sleeping equipment, the manual asserts that the average person can sleep on a poor bed, or even the floor, if he is tired enough, just as he can subsist after a fashion on unappetizing or poorly prepared foods. The modern homemaker, however, knows the importance of balanced diets and nourishing foods. She should know as well that there are qualities of sleep and that quality is more important than quantity.

"Good sleeping equipment merits the attention of every homemaker because it contributes comfort and high quality sleep to the lives of every member of the family," housewives are told. "Comfort in this case cannot be considered a luxury, because it is the source of sound sleep, and sound sleep is a builder of health."

Corner Desk

A desk which combines the best of modern styling with 18th Century feeling is shown above. It is made of birch, and the pulls are of plastic. The lamp likewise combines classical feeling with contemporary design.

Coffee Table

A coffee table that moves around on casters, an attractive tea set or a Duncan Phyfe Sofa—any one of these would fit into the classification of "most wanted" gifts.

VERSATILE PLANS

In addition to their use for food storage, refrigerator pans of porcelain enamel are also useful for cooking and baking when auxiliary pans are required.

Plan Explanation

Utility Gadgets Available

The priorities division has brought out a program intended to assure that adequate quantities of plumbing, heating and electrical supplies will be available to householders, farmers and businessmen through the usual wholesale and retail channels.

This program should accomplish the results requested of the priorities division and SPAB by the chamber's domestic trade committee last November. At that time a national campaign was launched by the committee among chambers of commerce, trade associations and trade publications asking their support in achieving this objective. It was foreseen that difficulties would arise both for the property owner in maintaining his property, and for the dealer in securing sufficient supplies to maintain his business.

IN TWO PARTS

The program is in two parts—the first for the benefit of the manufacturers of essential types of such supplies. Within the framework of the production requirements plan (explained in the "Builder" several weeks ago) they will be given priority assistance in obtaining materials. However, contrary to the regular provisions of that plan, manufacturers of plumbing, heating and electrical supplies will not be required to prove deliveries under rated orders where the supplies are to be sold to ultimate users not customarily assigned preference ratings.

To qualify for the preference ratings available, manufacturers make application on Form PD-25-a, which is sent to Production Requirements Branch, OPM. If approved, priority assistance will be granted in securing materials in amounts that are determined after consideration of the importance of the particular product, amounts of product previously manufactured, and the recommendations of appropriate industry branches of OPM.

TO PROPERTY OWNERS

It follows that if the manufacturers are in a position to secure materials, finished products in adequate quantities will work down to the distributive establishments concerned and thence to property owners.

Second part of the program is Supplies Order M-67, addressed to retailers, wholesalers, jobbers and other distributors of these supplies.

The order's main provision concerns "Maximum Permissable Inventory" which such dealers may have on hand. Obviously, because of relative distance from main sources of supply, dealers in the Pacific and Rocky Mountain areas are allowed a larger inventory than those in other portions of the country. Dealers here are allowed "an inventory (owned or consigned) of plumbing, heating and electrical supplies of a total dollar value at cost equal to three twelfths of the total dollar value at cost of such supplier's (dealers) sales (as defined below) of such supplies during the calendar year of 1941."

Other provisions of Suppliers' Order M-67 are:

1. "Sales means sales from stock and does not include direct factory shipments."

2. No one shall make delivery to, nor shall a dealer accept delivery, of such supplies which will effect an increase in stock above the dealer's maximum permissable inventory.

3. Delivery may be made and accepted, providing the dealer's stock at the time of delivery is less than the maximum permissable inventory, and "the delivery is of the minimum quantity of such material that can be commercially procured."

Leland Reeder's Prediction

State Survey Finds Realty Market Good

"California's leading realtors predict a substantial and even 'boom' real estate market in certain areas during the next few years despite war conditions," says Leland P. Reeder, newly elected president of the California Real Estate Association. This, he reports, was the revelation of the annual real estate market survey conducted by the California Real Estate magazine in 75 of the state's leading communities.

To the question, "How is the local market compared with last year?" 59 per cent of the organization's state officers, directors and realty boards replying said better, 26 per cent said it was about the same, and 15 per cent said it was lower. A lower market was reported largely in small communities in the less thickly populated centers of the state and in strictly non-defense areas.

OLD HOMES REVIVED

Further strengthening the much heard rumor that the average broker is "now coming into his own" with respect to the sale of older homes, which have proven more or less of a drug on the market during recent years, were the replies from 77 per cent that the 1941 old homes market was better than in 1940, 16 per cent said it was the same, and 7 per cent said there was less activity in their area in this particular phase of the market. A correspondence was noted between those reporting lower real estate markets in general and less activity in older homes.

Greatly increased activity in the farm market, approaching in some cases a real land investment boom, was reported by 74 per cent of those contacted in the survey who said the farm market was decidedly better, 25 per cent reporting it was the same.

The full effects of the defense program in California, the housing boom and improved activity in older homes were more fully displayed in the question asked as to a comparison of existing rental vacancies. Some 10 per cent reported greater vacancies than in 1940, 15 per cent said vacancies were the same, and 75 per cent reported less vacancies, many saying there were no vacancies at all, this especially in defense activity centers. Great shifts in population from certain areas to the locality of defense activities created additional vacancies in some communities, largely in Central California, the survey shows.

BUILDING SPOTTY

Despite the fact that California led the nation in individual housing units begun in 1941, the severe effects of government priorities and the advent of created material shortages, plus the erection of considerable government housing in competition with private home building, had a distinct effect upon the volume of California's home building in 1941 as compared to the previous year. The survey revealed that the current home building volume was greater in 29 per cent of the instances reported, the same in 19 per cent, and less in 52 per cent.

Industrial real estate and business property maintained a constant stability during the year as was revealed in the survey showing 29 per cent replying that this type of activity was greater in their area, 54 per cent said it was the same, and 17 per cent said less.

The predominance of the real estate investor was felt in 1941, due, perhaps, largely to the constant campaign waged to "hedge against inflation with real estate," largely accepted by the alert public. Realty purchase for income was reported better in 58 per cent of the cases, the same in 32 per cent and less in 10 per cent.

Only natural in the face of a rising real estate market were the higher selling prices for all real estate reported by 69 per cent in the survey. Selling prices similar to 1940 were reported by 28 per cent, and 3 per cent said lower selling prices prevailed in their territories.

Substitute Ideas for Dollars

A few ingenious ideas can save hundreds of dollars when you modernize. Modern Millwork to replace the old may be all your home needs to make it look new.

Surprisingly little has been changed in this old house to make it look like a modern country home. The overhanging eaves have been eliminated. Old windows have been replaced by modern millwork with shutters as added decoration, and false-work has been built around the spindly chimneys to "fatten" them to more harmonious proportions.

Addition of a garage, while not essential, does lengthen the structure and improve its proportions.

Heavy Shingles Beautify Roofs

The texture of a roof is most important on that style of house which, because of its shape, shows most roof surface. The ordinary two-story home, with a fairly low roof pitch, places practically no emphasis on roof material because little of it is visible. If you are building a one-story or a one-and-half story house, it is best to pay particular attention to the securing of an interesting looking roof.

A roof constructed of material which is thin and which lies flat, and in which there is little evidence of pattern, adds little to appearance of a house. At the opposite extreme is the rough-textured roof, full of patterns and shadows, which can make almost any house good looking.

A heavy roof of tile, slate, or stone may be too expensive for your small home. But, there is an inexpensive way of securing for your house the good looks of a heavily shadowed roof . . . the use of heavy wood shingles or split shakes.

NO 'PITTING'

Sanitary protection of the porcelain enameled coating on trays, pots and pans is one of the important reasons why porcelain enameled ware is widely used in restaurant and cafeteria steam tables. Other reasons are the resistance of porcelain enameled utensils to corrosion or "pitting," their clean appearance and ease of cleaning after use.
